Limited Stop Payment Privileges Under the ETFA

The general rule is that if a member uses an electronic fund transfer, the Electronic Fund Transfer Act (EFTA), 15 USC 1693 et seq., does not give the member the right to stop payment. If the member's purchase is defective or the member's order is not delivered, it is as if the member paid cash: it is up to the member to resolve the problem with the seller and get his or her money back. There is, however, one exception to this general rule. If the member arranged for recurring payments out of the member's account to third parties, such as insurance companies or utilities, the member can stop payment if the member notifies the credit union at least three (3) business days before the scheduled transfer. The notice can be written or oral, but the credit union may require a written follow-up within fourteen (14) days of an oral notice. If the member does not follow-up in writing after required by a credit union, the credit union's responsibility to stop payment ends.

CUSO Registry

As a reminder, back in November 2013, the NCUA Board adopted changes to the regulations (12 CFR Parts 712 and 741) that address federally insured credit unions' responsibilities when involved with a credit union service organization (CUSO). Among the various amendments is a new requirement for all CUSOs to register with NCUA beginning in 2016. It is our understanding that the online registry should be available to CUSOs through the NCUA website with the initial registration period beginning February 1, 2016 and ending March 31, 2016. Credit unions that have an investment in or a loan to a CUSO may stay abreast of communications related to this matter, by monitoring the NCUA's CUSO Registry webpage.

Board Meeting Attendance

The issue of attendance of credit union directors is a tricky one. After all, board members are volunteers with their own jobs, families, and busy lives to balance in addition to the voluntary obligations of their credit union board. However, missed meetings seriously diminish the effectiveness of the entire board, and a director's irregular or inconsistent meeting attendance could run up against Texas state law. Texas Finance Code Section 122.055 provides that the office of a director becomes vacant if the director has been absent from more meetings than the total number of absences permitted by commission rule. In turn, 7 TAC Section 91.501 specifies that any director who fails to attend three consecutive regularly scheduled meetings without an excuse approved by a majority vote of the board, or who fails to attend six regularly scheduled meetings during any twelve-month period following the director's election or appointment is automatically removed from office. It should be noted that these provisions are self-executing and self-operative so once a director misses either of the prescribed number of meetings, the position is vacant and there is nothing the board can do except fill the vacancy with a new person. As a result, it is important for board minutes for the meeting(s) missed to reflect if a director's absence is excused or not excused. The lack of a record of an affirmative vote by the board is construed as an unexcused absence.
