Mr. Kolhoff also reported that from the employment standpoint, we have acquired masks, hand sanitizer and wipes. Our field staff continues to work almost 100% remote, conducting examinations to the best of their ability as we move forward and are still getting the job done. Most of the institutions are working well with us with some hiccups when it comes to technology. The Department remains ready to enter a credit union, if necessary to perform its duties, but at this time almost all work has been effectively conducted offsite. The office staff continue to split their time in the office in order to ensure operations are continuing, but to mitigate as much as we can the operational risk of the entire staff getting infected by using two teams alternating, with each team spending 20 hours in the office and 20 hours offsite.

- ❖ Commission Member Steve Gilman, CEO of Houston Texas Fire Fighters Federal Credit Union raised the question regarding schools reopening from district to district and any foreseen issues with staff being able to continue to do their examinations remotely if a school did not reopen and the kids were back at home. Commissioner Kolhoff responded that so far everything is working well, and no issues have come up. Mr. Kolhoff expressed his gratitude to staff, both in the office and in the field, for their flexibility and their diligence during the pandemic.
